Bachelors Degree in American Indian Studies

The AIS major is an open major: students with a cumulative UW GPA of at least 2.0 can declare the major at any time. A bachelors degree prepares students for a variety of careers, including community-based and university-based research; cultural resource management; education; writing; fundraising; tribal administration; academic advising and administration; museum curation; resource management; and many other careers.

Learn more down below.

BA in American Indian Studies

Minor in American Indian Studies

There are no admission requirements and no prerequisites for the American Indian Studies minor. Any undergraduate student with at least sophomore standing (45 credits completed) who is officially declared in any major may declare this minor with his or her major adviser’s permission. 25 credits less than the major.

Learn more down below.

Minor in American Indian Studies
Minor in Oceania & Pacific Islander Studies

The OPIS Minor offers students an opportunity to learn about the histories and contemporary cultures of Oceania through academic coursework and community experiences. The OPIS curriculum is multidisciplinary, comparative, and designed to increase students' critical and transformative thinking about all aspects of knowledge and practice related to Oceania.

Learn more down below.

Minor in Oceania & Pacific Islander Studies Minor

- Scholarships
- Careers
- Resources & Opportunities

Department of American Indian Studies
University of Washington
Padelford Hall C-514
Box 354305
Seattle, WA 98195

Phone: (206) 543-9082
Fax: (206) 616-3122
native@uw.edu

Source URL: https://ais.washington.edu/undergraduate-programs