

AMERICAN INDIANS IN CINEMA: SUMMER 2015

---

This class will critically examine how American Indians have been presented in various media productions by both native and non-native media producers.

CLASS DETAILS

Summer session: A-Term

Department: American Indian Studies

Instructor: Jonathan Tomhave

Gen. Ed. requirements met: DIV, VLPA, I&S

Meets MTWTh 10:20-12:30

Location: SIG 134

SLN: 10050

5 Credits

More information: native@uw.edu,

<http://ais.washington.edu>

UW SUMMER QUARTER

Summer Quarter at the University of Washington is open to everyone, including high school students in Advanced Study programs, incoming freshmen, international students, graduate nonmatriculated students, students from other universities, and the general public. More information: <http://www.summer.washington.edu/>

THE DEPARTMENT OF
AMERICAN INDIAN STUDIES

