

INCONVENIENT INDIANS AND THE "AMERICAN PROBLEM"

Kiowa Airmen Gus Palmer and Horace Poolaw, 1944

AIS 210 | SLN 10198 | JOSH REID | I&S and DIV, 5cr | T/Th 9:30-11:20 | AUT 18

AMERICAN INDIAN HISTORY SINCE 1815

This course surveys the histories of indigenous peoples of North America from the nineteenth century to today. You will explore a range of topics, including settler colonialism, indigenous power, American Indian-US relations, and Native governance and activism. Through this course, you will understand the diversity of the American Indian experience through the history of the US and the ways American Indian individuals, communities, and nations used commerce, diplomacy, and/or violence to confront the expanding settler colonial power of the US and its lethal results.

AIS.WASHINGTON.EDU

